Personnel Associates, Inc. has a new name, US Publishing Jobs

For Release September 25, 2019

After nearly 40 years, the boutique contingency only search firm, formerly known as Personnel Associates, Inc., announced they have officially changed their name to US Publishing Jobs.

Even though the name has changed, their contact information, including the website, www.uspublishingjobs.com, as well as their amazing team of recruiters will remain the same. They look forward to using their years of combined publishing recruiting experience and network of over 100,000+ industry contacts to help find the top talent you are looking for.

About US Publishing Jobs (Formerly Personnel Associates, Inc.)

The company was initially founded in 1982 as Personnel Associates, Inc. Through the years, they have refined their area of expertise and expanded their network within the Publishing industry in key segments such as Academic, Trade, Society, STM, Higher Ed, K12, Professional, Corporate and Ed Tech. As they continue to focus the company's strategy around these areas, they felt their name should coincide with their goal, which is why they have officially become US Publishing Jobs.
